President's Message

This Monday, we presented Bill Reamer of the Columbia Optimist Club with a Farewell Farm Sponsorship check for the MS Society. Their club members provided cooking equipment and prepared chicken and pork barbecue at Farewell Farm. Members of our club have helped their club in years past with the Christmas smoked turkey/ ham sales and with the Spring MS barbecue sale. The point is that the Columbia Optimist Club is quite willing to share their fundraisers and we as a club are looking for additional service opportunities. I encourage our members to participate in the Christmas smoked turkey/ ham fundraiser by selling some tickets as well as assisting at the sale location one time during the event.

Guests

Teresa McWilliams &
Steven Juk
guests of Joseph Azar

The sale is noon Dec. 15th to noon Dec. 24th. Turkeys and hams are $30 each or $25 each for orders of 10 or more. I will have tickets the next two Mondays for members to get. We will also pick one day of the sale for a group of club members to help at the sale location.

We sometimes need a deadline to bring us to action. Dan Felker announced that we have just one more meeting in December to submit names for invitations to the Jan. 26th membership dinner. Formal invitations will be mailed in early January to the guests you have submitted.

Thanks to the Social Committee for our Christmas Party preparations. NO regular meeting this Monday, the party is at 6:30.

Guest Speaker~ Temple Ligon. What can you say about Temple? He's a contributing writer for Columbia Star, Radio Commentator, City Planner, Futurist, Straight-Shooter and general thorn in the side for local politicians. Mr. Ligon discussed the process of City Building, "Ligon's Bridge" and gave a fascinating inside look at City Politics and Strategies for building The Hilton Convention Center. He asked, "With private investors, without request for tax concessions, why is The Hilton being built by Columbia?" We loved him!
